BRYAN IS SINCERE BUT LACKS NERVE

FORMER SENATOR BUTLER SAYS DEMOCRATIC LEADER IS HONEST, BUT IS NOT A "DOER."

WASHINGTON, July 31.—"Bryan lacks nerve the Democratic party lacks cohesion and organization For these reasons Bryan, if elected, and backed up by a Democratic house and senate, will accomplish practically nothing.

This is the opinion of former Senator Marion Butler of North Carolina, first a Democrat, then a Populist now a Republican Butler has a poor opinion of William Jennings Bryan, as a doer of things, although he admits his sincerity and honesty He pointed out today what he conceives to be the weak spots of Bryan as follows

"I think that if Bryan had been elected president when Roosevelt was elected and at the same time had a Democratic congress with him he would have been unable to carry out his promises, although he would have tried to do so He would have failed on account of want of cohesion and organization, not to say want of sincerity in the Democratic house and senate

"We won't discuss that question I regard Roosevelt as the greatest president the country has ever had He is a man of the Andrew Jackson mould—courageous, able, energetic and honest. He goes Andrew Jackson one better in all these qualities That's the reason you will find a great many Andrew Jackson Democrats voting for him Roosevelt has more nerve and force to accomplish things than Bryan has Bryan is too inclined to be palliative and conciliatory"

NEW YORK, July 31.—At the point of revolvers, two men, accused of swindling hundreds of poor Italian families in San Francisco by forging their names to claims against the insurance companies, have been arrested in this city. "STAND-PAT" DECLARATION IN PLATFORM

SENATOR DICK OF OHIO CONFERS WITH ROOSEVELT REGARDING CAMPAIGN.

SAYS REPUBLICANS WILL INDORSE PRESIDENT AND CONGRESS, AND OPPOSE TARIFF REVISION.

OYSTER BAY, July 31.—Senator Charles Dick of Ohio, and Elmer Dover, secretary of the Republican National committee made a joint pilgrimage to Sagamore Hill today President Roosevelt discussed with them for two hours the political situation in Ohio

Aside from the advantage of the discussion, the simple fact that Senator Dick was a guest at Sagamore Hill and came away bearing the president's expression of enthusiastic desire for harmony and success in the coming congressional campaign is regarded as a political occurrence which will have decided weight in the Republican situation in Ohio. It has been said in Ohio that Senators Foraker and Dick do not stand for the Roosevelt administration and this report bids fair to cause at least a degree of trouble. It has now been "nailed to the mast," if these words from Senator Dick have meaning

"It is safe to make one prediction, that President Roosevelt's administration and the work of congress will receive sincere and enthusiastic indorsement in the Ohio Republican platform"

Senator Dick has for many years made the first draft of the state platform and this was one of the principal topics of the discussion today

Besides the strong indorsement of the president there is to be a 'stand pat" declaration regarding tariff General Dick expressed himself freely on this point

"It would be practically impossible for the 60th congress to revise the tariff," he remarked. "Beside it would be decidedly bad political sense There has never been an exception to the occurrence that when a political party in control of congress undertook to revise the tariff two years preceding a national election it failed to elect its candidates in that election. The present tariff law known as the Dingley law has produced in this country unparalleled prosperity

"We must at the proper time, however, recognize and deal with the sentiment which demands a revision of certain schedules. The Republican policy has always been and the expressions of the leading advocates of the protective tariff ... including McKinley, ... [illegible] ... for ... revision of such tariffs when ... on account of changing conditions, sooner or later need to be changed"

Senator Dick then gave his reasons for saying that the Republican political outlook at the present moment is decidedly better than it was a year ago. Herrick, he said, was defeated for re-election as governor largely, if not entirely, on the temperance question This question is not now a factor. The defeat of Herrick has a salutary effect on Ohio Republicans It has undoubtedly brought them to a ... that they could not be split up and win elections.

ROOT BEARS GREETING TO RIO JANEIRO

SECRETARY GIVES ABLE ADDRESS BEFORE PAN-AMERICAN CONGRESS.

TALKS ON THE SUBJECT OF SELF-GOVERNMENT AND PROGRESS NATIONS ARE MAKING

RIO DE JANEIRO, July 31.—Secretary Root and his party, accompanied by members of the diplomatic corps came down to Rio this afternoon from Petropolis on a special train

He was met by a large number of prominent persons who went across the bay in three ferry boats Upon arriving in this city he drove to the Abrantes palace where tea was served At 3 30 o'clock Mr Root left the palace to attend the special meeting of the Pan-American congress in his honor.

The pavilion was surrounded by troops and thousands of students who carried torch lights The streets leading to the pavilion were made brilliant with many lights

Senor Nacubo, Brazilian ambassador to the United States, opened the session with an address in which he praised the American secretary. The secretary replied as follows

I bring from my own country a special greeting to our sisters. Unlike as we are in many respects, we are alike in this, that we are all engaged under new conditions, free from the traditional forms and limitations of the old world, in working out the same problems of popular self-government. This is a difficult and laborious task for each of us Not in one generation nor in one century can the effective control of a superior sovereign, so long deemed necessary to government, be rejected and effective self-control by the governed be perfected in its place.

"The first fruits of democracy are many, crude and unlovely. Mistakes are many, partial failures are many and sins are not few The capacity for self-government does not come to man by nature It is an art to be learned as well as an expression of character to be developed among the great number of men who exercise popular sovereignty.

"To reach the goal toward which we are pressing, the governing of the multitude, we first must acquire the knowledge that comes from universal education, the wisdom which follows practical experience, that personal independence and self-respect befitting men who acknowledge no superior, self-control to replace that external control which democracy rejects, respect of the law, obedience to the lawful expression of the public will, ... consideration of the opinions and interests of others equally entitled to a voice in the state, a loyalty to the abstract conceptions of one's country as inspiring as that loyalty to personal sovereigns which has so illuminated the pages of history, the subordination of personal interests to the public good and love of justice, mercy, liberty and order. All these we must seek by slow and patient effort. ... many shortcomings there are in our own lands and among our own peoples each one of us is conscious, yet no student of our

PENNSYLVANIA TO CUT DOWN FARES

REDUCTION OF ONE CENT A MILE IN ONE WAY RATE TO BECOME OPERATIVE NOVEMBER 1.

PHILADELPHIA, July 31.—Important conditions in passenger rates were announced today by Fourth Vice President John B Thayer of the Pennsylvania railroad, following a meeting of the board of directors of that corporation. The company has decided to reduce the maximum one-way rate from 3¼ cents to 2½ cents a mile This action will involve a readjustment of all through fares from the south, and owing to the vast amount of work entailed by reason of the change the new rate will not become operative for some time, probably November 1

It is assumed that the connecting lines which reach New York by way of Cincinnati and Louisville will meet the Pennsylvania company's reduction by a readjustment of fares so that all southern passenger traffic whether by way of Washington Cincinnati or Louisville will be on an equal basis

The company will also on September 1 place on sale 1 000-mile tickets valid only on its lines east of Pittsburg and Erie at the flat price of $20 These mileage tickets will be transferable No change is to be made in the price of the interchangeable mileage tickets now sold by the company which are not transferable and upon which a deposit of $10 above the regular price is required It is estimated that 50 000 interchangeable mileage books are presented on the various roads and of this number 65 per cent are used on the lines of the Pennsylvania road

BAD BOY IS WORSE THAN BIG GRAFTER

SO DECLARES DR. WINSHIP IN ADDRESS AT NORMAL INSTITUTE.

WAYWARD YOUTH COUNTRY'S GREATEST MENACE—CHURCH, SCHOOL AND COURTS MUST SAVE HIM.

The greatest problem in American life is the saving of the troublesome boys They are a national menace, There is no occasion to worry overmuch about the wrongdoing of the aged Standard Oil men, meat packers or railroad kings We are wasting a lot of valuable voice and type about these men. They are about through with their careers None of them will do much more harm even if they are as bad as they have been painted. But we are giving all too little thought and effort to the youngsters who are likely to have fifty years of vigorous life in which to develop bad tendencies and purposes"

In these words Dr A E. Winship of Boston, editor of the Journal of Education, and one of the most prominent men in the educational world today, yesterday declared in his opening address before the normal institute at the High school that the "bad boy" is a greater menace to the country than is the grafter or law breaker in the business or political world.

Dr Winship spoke yesterday afternoon on "Paddy O'Conner and His Gang" and the incident which gives the title to the lecture illustrates the greater theme upon which he will deliver three lectures during the progress of the institute on "Troublesome Boys."

"Paddy O'Conner was one of the hardest problems that a Boston boy ever presented," said Dr. Winship "He was sent to the George Junior republic at Freeville, N. Y., where there are 70 incorrigible boys and 50 unmanageable boys from all the big cities of the world. The first thing he did was to form a gang within the republic. Then five of them escaped and started upon a career of desperation. They were caught and brought back. Then began his reformation."

Dr. Winship followed Paddy's career from that day until the time he became a lawyer in the junior republic, then a judge and finally president Today, as John Joseph O'Conner, he is in Phillips Andover academy, preparing for Harvard This thrilling story of the redemption of one "bad boy" was made the foundation of much wholesome advice.

"The church, the school and the courts are the only organized forces upon which one can rely in efforts to transform these boy liabilities into assets," he continued. "These will be aided by special agencies such as the George Junior republic, and Judge Lindsey's juvenile court in Denver. The first great step in this work of transformation is the legal designation of 'delinquents' and 'waywards' a delinquent being a boy of 17 or under who has violated any law other than that of murder or manslaughter, and a wayward being one who gives evidence of being liable to become a delinquent. The school may not be able to grapple with the problems of delinquency, but it must help save those of waywardness"

Dr Winship was recently appointed one of the national committee of 12 to nationalize the juvenile improvement work, in which Judge Ben B Lindsey of Denver is so greatly interested and of which committee Judge Lindsey is chairman

Tomorrow afternoon, at 2 30 o'clock, Dr. Winship will continue this ... of lectures by delivering an address on "A Little American Girl and Her Fa... lander Mother."

VAUGHN WINS IN AUTO HILL CLIMBING EVENT

BRETTONS WOODS, N. H., July 31.—The motor vehicle meeting in the White mountains closed today with the hill-climbing contest in which 30 cars competed. Some fast scores were made, but there were many hairbreadth escapes in the three quarter mile run up the narrow road of the Crawford Notch from the Wiley house to the Crawford house lawn, and it is probable that next year the club will return to the road up Mount Washington for its test of uphill work for cars.

The best time made was by Guy Vaughn's 30-horsepower gasoline car, which covered the distance in two minutes, 48 seconds.

LARNED LEADS RACE FOR TENNIS HONORS

BOSTON, July 31.—William A. Larned of Summit, N. J., won a second leg into the Longwood cup today by defeating Karl H. Rehr of Yale in the challenge match of the Longwood Cricket club's annual tennis tournament, three sets to one. The scores were 5-6, 3-6, 6-2, 6-3.

It was a contest in which the steadiness of the veteran won against the brilliant, but erratic, play of his opponent.

Larned's victory today gives him two legs in the third challenge cup of the Longwood Cricket club, the second cup being already in Larned's possession.

HIS TWIN BROTHERS TO SING HIM TO CONGRESS

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 31.—To sing his way into congress by proxy is the scheme of Henry F. Cochems, of Milwaukee, who, by the aid of two brothers, will emulate "Fiddling Bob" Taylor of Tennessee, who fiddled his way into the governor's chair and later into the United States senate.

Mr. Cochems has been for years one of the trusted lieutenants of Senator La Follette, and the latter very much desires him in the lower house to assist him in his fight for a stronger railroad measure, which, he says, will begin as soon as he returns to Washington.

Cochems is running against Representative Stafford, of the Fifth Congressional district, for the nomination for congress on the Republican side.

Mr. Cochems is a good talker, but he felt that he must have something else in order to win. Just then his brother, Carl, dropped in, and the idea ... to Henry to have a singing campaign. Carl Cochems is an ... singer of note. His twin brother, Edward, also has developed unusual ability of a high order.

BARON KOMURA SAYS FOREIGN CRITICISMS ARE DUE TO IMPATIENCE.

CONDITIONS IN MANCHURIA ... AND THAT JAPAN FOLLOWS PRESENT PLAN OF ACTION.

VICTORIA, B. C., July 31.—Baron Komura, recently appointed Japanese ambassador to Great Britain, arrived today by the Canadian Pacific railroad steamer Empress of Japan, en route to London via Quebec from where he sails by the Empress of Ireland on August 9. To the Associated Press he said:

"I am sorry that I am unable to visit the United States on my present trip, but the state of my health, though I have recovered considerably, requires that I take the cooler northern route. I deeply regret my inability to go to New York and Washington as I would much like to visit my American friends, made during my trip to Portsmouth to negotiate the peace treaty. I expect, however, to be able to visit the United States before I have spent long in England."

Baron Komura said with regard to Japanese action in Manchuria that the Japanese government would undoubtedly carry out all the pledges made before and since the war to maintain "the open door" in Manchuria. Regarding the criticism of foreign merchants, he said, they were due to impatience. The term of occupation demanded that Japan adopt the measures now in vogue, but as soon as the military occupation was ended and this would be soon arrangements would be made to carry out the pledges regarding an "open door" policy.

True, the bulk of the army had been repatriated, but there were still large forces in Manchuria. There were also Russian troops in occupation. While it was not known definitely what Russia was doing, it was known that troops were steadily being withdrawn and it was necessary that the Japanese military administration continue to occupy the country until the withdrawal was complete.

"Has Dalny been made a free port and other nations than Japanese restricted from trading via that port with Manchuria?"

"That, I can not tell you," replied Baron Komura. "This much I can say, that the pledges made by Japan regarding Manchuria will be carried out in every particular as soon as the term of occupation by the military forces has expired."

In Japan, Baron Komura said conditions were fast improving. The country has recovered from the effects of the war and although taxes were increased, the outlook was good. In the arrangement of the post bellum economic condition on which the country was entered there were four questions to be solved by the government and nation. They are: First, how to revise the customs tariff; second, how to make Japan a great industrial country; third, how to make Japan a factor in the commercial warfare in neighboring countries whose doors were thrown open to the world's competition; fourth, how to finance the post bellum ... undertakings. ... Of ... Manchuria, although in carrying out the pledges made it would need be secured in open competition with the traders of the world. Already Mukden, Antung and Saidoko had been thrown open to the commerce of the world. In Korea, too, all Japanese commerce will be increased as well as in Sakhalien and other districts, which will be developed as a result of the war.

As for the stories of the proposed nationalization of all Japanese industries, as suggested in a recent dispatch from Washington, Baron Komura said he had heard nothing of this and thought it most improbable. The railways of the country are being nationalized, but he doubted if any such step as the nationalization of all industries was contemplated.

PROMINENT EDUCATOR PAYS THIS CITY GLOWING TRIBUTE

"I have lectured in more than 950 cities and towns and in nearly 50 states, territories and provinces. During the last year I have traveled more than 50,000 miles for lecture purposes, and I say unhesitatingly that there is but one place on the continent that I enjoy as much in climate and scenery as I do Colorado, and none that I enjoy or appreciate more. Colorado Springs is a favorite city of mine." With these words, another man, known throughout the country, pays his tribute to Colorado and to Colorado Springs. Dr. A. E. Winship of Boston, editor of the Journal of Education, who is conducting the normal institute at the High school, yesterday said this of the Centennial state.

Dr. Winship is no stranger in Colorado Springs, having been here many times since his first visit in 1875 with a party of New England and New York editors, who had the honor of naming Williams canon. At that time he represented the Boston Globe, one of the leading dailies of New England. Some years, as last year, he has been here several times, often spending two weeks or more at a visit.

In the early days of Colorado college, Dr. Winship was one of the secretaries of the New West Education commission, under which the college was founded and he frequently paid official visits to the college. He is at present a member of the Massachusetts State Board of Education and is editor and proprietor of the Journal of Education, the oldest educational publication in the country. He was recently appointed as one of the committee of 12 to nationalize the juvenile improvement work in which Judge Ben B. Lindsey of Denver is interested and of which committee Judge Lindsey is chairman.

MUTINEERS IN FULL CONTROL AT SVEABORG

their crews were driven below decks. They finally steamed out and joined in the bombardment with the cruisers. This sea attack was in co-operation with attacks from Cossacks and infantry from the land side which began at 8 o'clock in the morning and continued throughout the whole day. Finally, toward evening, the firing ceased and the authorities announced that the barracks had been captured.

At 1 o'clock in the afternoon the Cossacks cleared the square in front of the palace facing Sveaborg and then drove the public from the entire water front for the purpose of preventing the sending of assistance from the city to Sveaborg.

The exact situation at Sveaborg is not known. Rumors are in circulation that the entire fortress has now fallen into the hands of the insurgents, but they lack confirmation. It is believed that this cessation of fighting is only a prelude to the renewal of the battle between the mutineers and the government troops.

An authoritative estimate of the killed and wounded cannot be obtained but the casualty list on both sides must be heavy, for the fighting was waged with desperation. Various rumors are heard regarding the fate of the officers who were at Sveaborg and in the Skatudden barracks.

According to one rumor almost all the officers, and, according to another almost all the junior officers, sided with the mutineers. The marines at Skatudden decided to have convened an elective court martial which condemned several officers to instant execution. The wives and families of the officers on duty in the fortress were sent ashore by General Laiming and were not molested by the revolutionists.

The "Red Guards," who were cognizant of the plot, dispatched an expedition by special train as soon as the revolt broke out, to cut the railroad track outside of the city in order to prevent the arrival of reinforcements. A general strike was declared this afternoon and was obeyed by the workmen of all the factories.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 31.—No report of the suspension of the great revolt of the garrison at Sveaborg fortress, the "Gibraltar of the North" has been received in St. Petersburg.

The secondary uprising among the marines and troops stationed at Skatudden barracks on the peninsula communicating with the main land, was crushed out at a late hour yesterday afternoon by loyal troops after heavy fighting in which nine ..., destroyers and torpedo boats participated.

The outlying islands and the fortress appear to be in their possession and they have practically all the machine guns, quick firing guns and movable artillery of the fortress.

General Laiming, the commandant of the fortress, is holding on to the main fort on Commander island, with a force of loyal infantry.

times can fail to see that not America alone, but the whole civilized world is swinging away from the old governmental moorings and intrusting the fate of civilization to the capacity of the popular mass to govern. By this pathway mankind is traveling whithersoever it leads and upon the success of this great undertaking the hope of humanity depends.

"Nor can we fail to see that the world is making substantial progress toward more perfect self-government. I do believe it to be true, viewed against the background of conditions a century, a generation, even a decade ago, that the government of my own country has advanced in the intelligent participation of the great mass of the people, the fidelity with which they are represented, respect of the law, obedience to the dictates of sound morality, and in effectiveness and purity of administration."

TEXAS PRIMARY FIGHT TO GO TO CONVENTION

AUSTIN, Tex., July 31.—Three days after the Democratic primaries of Texas, the race for party nominee for governor and other state officers, the result shows T. M. Campbell, the Union Labor candidate, in the lead.

M. M. Brooks, C. K. Bell and O. B. Colquitt, the three other candidates, will go to the convention in the order named. No candidate has as yet received sufficient votes to make him the nominee and the contest for the nomination will have to be fought out in the state convention, which will meet in Dallas August 14.

W. D. Williams, the Granger candidate for railroad commissioner, at this time seems to have defeated T. J. Stoney, the present incumbent, who sought re-election.

ALLEN'S FOOT-EASE ...

HANG NEGRO FOR ASSAULTING GIRL

TRIAL AND EXECUTION REQUIRE LESS THAN AN HOUR. WOULD-BE LYNCHERS ARE THWARTED.

MAYFIELD, Ky., July 31.—The hanging of Allen Mathis, the negro who criminally assaulted Miss Ethel McLain last Wednesday night, took place at 8 o'clock tonight in a legal manner in the county jail. Fully 10,000 people were present, but only a few hundred could see the execution although almost the entire fence surrounding the scaffold had been torn down by the enraged citizens while the trial was going on.

It was only 50 minutes from the time the jury was sworn in until the negro was pronounced dead. Mathis arrived here at 6:40 o'clock tonight from Louisville, in charge of a deputy sheriff and a company of militia from Hopkinsville. The local military met the train and the negro was marched to the court house.

Several attempts were made to get the negro and twice he was in the possession of the mob, but the soldiers finally succeeded in forcing their way with the prisoner to the court house, where Mathis' trial was at once begun.

There are rumors tonight that another negro in jail from Hickman county, charged with a similar offense, was to be lynched, but it is understood that he was spirited away.

DENOUNCED RELIEF WORK AT BANQUET

DISCONTENTED ELEMENT IN SAN FRANCISCO SHOWS POOR APPRECIATION OF DR. DEVINE'S EFFORTS.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—A banquet was given to Dr. Devine, the national Red Cross representative who has charge of the relief work since the fire and who is about to return to his home in the east.

A number of the discontented persons who are living in the refugee camps took advantage of the occasion to work up a demonstration against the methods of the relief commission and as a result a throng of people gathered tonight in Union Square in front of the St. Francis hotel where the banquet was held. A number of speeches, mostly denunciatory in character, were made, but there was no trouble and the large force of police present was not called upon to act.

The banqueters were not disturbed by the meeting outside.

BIG BATTLESHIP IN COLLISION; MAN HURT

NEWPORT, R. I., July 31.—Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans, commanding the Atlantic fleet, received reports in detail today of a collision which occurred during a fog last night between the battleships Alabama and Illinois, about eight miles southeast of Brenton Reef lightship. The side of the Illinois was scraped by the bow of the Alabama, and several plates of the forward part of the Alabama were dented. It is thought also that one or more of the six-inch guns on the two battleships were damaged. Rear Admiral Evans said tonight that he was satisfied that neither ship was injured below the water line.

Seaman Corbett of the Illinois was so severely injured by the fall of a lifeboat davit that it was necessary to amputate one of his legs tonight.

VOLIVA FOR OVERSEER

ZION CITY, Ill., July 31.—A meeting in the tabernacle tonight unanimously nominated Wilbur Glen Voliva for election as general overseer of the church in accordance with the recent order of Judge Landis.

THE RETORT ...

There is a certain bishop whose sense of smell is extremely acute, and who, as is usual in such cases, dislikes extremely any odor whatever. It happens that his son, a young college man, has what his father regards as an extremely vulgar liking for extracts and scented soaps, and not long ago there was a little tilt between them upon the subject. The young man appeared glowing healthily from a bath, but with an unmistakable scent of violets hanging about him.

"I see you have been indulging in your taste for perfume, Harold," the bishop remarked coldly.

"Oh, no, that's only soap," the young fellow replied easily; "and you know cleanliness is next to godliness."

"Possibly," the Bishop replied; "but you may be sure that scanted soap is a long way from the odor of sanctity."

VICTIM OF NEGRO SEES HIM KILLED

MOB CAPTURES GIRLS' ASSAILANT, SHE IDENTIFIES HIM AND VENGEANCE IS QUICKLY WREAKED.

ATLANTA, Ga., July 31.—Floyd Carmichael, a negro about 22 years old who was identified by Miss Poole of Lakewood, a suburb of Atlanta, as the man who assaulted her early today, was shot in front of the Poole residence, in sight of his victim, this afternoon, by a posse which had captured him.

After he had been shot there were cries of "Burn him!" but county police, arriving at this time, prevented such action.

About 10 o'clock this morning, while returning from a visit to a neighbor, Miss Poole, who is 15 years old, was attacked by the negro and choked until unconscious. When the alarm was given a posse quickly formed, but it was not until late in the afternoon that the negro was caught and brought into Miss Poole's presence.

She identified him, a volley of shots rang out and the negro fell dead.

As anticipated, it decided to give seats in the convention tomorrow to the 60 Perkins delegates, representing James, Polk, Jefferson and Wapello counties. In addition the committee voted to let in 18 Perkins delegates from Dallas and 10 from Audubon.

As Governor Cummins claims to have 885 delegates, not counting the 60 delegates first mentioned, concerning whose seats it was admitted there might be question, his loss, if the committee's action is sustained by the committee on credentials, will be 208, giving him 857. It requires 821 to make a nomination.

In the cases of the other several counties in which contests were made on behalf of Perkins, the committee agreed to admit the Cummins delegates. In two, Polk and Boone, they heard arguments, but in the other five had before them only the documentary evidence.

The Cummins people went into conference as soon as the announcement was made, to decide on a program to be followed by them in the convention. It is thought there will be no unusual scenes in tomorrow's convention.

An effort was made to restore harmony, the movers for peace being the Iowa delegation in congress. They met this afternoon and speedily came to the conclusion that it was necessary for the Republicans of Iowa to have a peaceful convention and nominate one ticket. Following this meeting the members of the state central committee were told that they should take action which would not result in a split in the convention.

WORN OUT NERVES

In meeting and in becoming acquainted with tourists and health seekers who are constantly coming and going, we have become greatly interested in those who come here for nervous troubles. They tell you that there is nothing the matter with them only they are very nervous. They will sit down and talk with you a little while and perhaps give a little hacking cough every few minutes. They do not notice the cough themselves and it is a good thing that they do not, for it would be something more for them to worry about. We have often noticed that when the family doctor advises a patient to come to Colorado Springs because he is nervous and has a slight attack of Bronchitis that the doctor is wiser than the patient knows, for as a rule a high altitude is not the place for a nervous person and there the very few doctors who would own that they cannot cure a Bronchitis. So it may be set down as a rule that when a patient is advised to come to Colorado Springs with even a very slight cough that the doctor thinks their lungs are affected and that they can not be cured in a low altitude. In a great many of these cases improvement is rapid at first but as the heart is usually weak where there is a nervous condition the improvement does not last very long and they find after a while that their lungs are also weak and that the Bronchitis has extended into the lung tissue and that they have a cough and expectoration. If they could go into a low altitude they feel sure the heart would improve, but they do not dare leave here for fear their lungs will grow worse. Those who at this time adopt the Shepard Treatment and follow Doctor Shepard's advice settle the above perplexing question easily, for the treatment strengthens the heart and brings about a healthy condition of the lungs so that in very many cases, after using it a short time here they take the treatment home with them and heal their lungs in their own homes. They find that when the lungs heal and the heart becomes strong that their nervousness leaves them and that no one thing is so important for nervous people as to breathe perfectly. This treatment opens the unused air cells and promotes good deep breathing. This increases the amount of oxygen taken into the lungs and the blood is enriched so that the heart can do its work more easily. This is the road to health and all simply and inexpensively done.

WHY A CHARTER IS NEEDED.

BECAUSE of the general lack of knowledge on the subject comparatively few people have thus far signed the petition asking the Council to call a charter convention election In order that this important matter may be better understood The Gazette prints today an article written by a leading member of the Colorado Springs bar in which the purpose and meaning of the petition is set forth at length The article follows

The Twentieth Amendment to the Constitution provided primarily for the government of the city of Denver allowing it to hold a charter convention to draw up a system of government, which upon adoption by the vote of the qualified electors was to became the charter or form of government for the city The first five sections of this Twentieth Amendment relate to the City and County of Denver The sixth section is as follows

'Cities of the first and second class in this state are hereby empowered to propose for submission to a vote of the qualified electors proposals for charter conventions and to hold the same and to amend any such charter with the same force and in the same manner and have the same power as near as may be set out in sections four and five hereof with power as to real and personal property and public utilities, works or ways as set out in Section One of this Amendment'

It is under this section of the Amendment that it is proposed to present the petitions for a charter convention to the City Council of Colorado Springs The fourth and fifth sections referred to provide the procedure for calling charter conventions to adopt a form of city government and also provide for the submission of such charters when so framed to the vote of the people The first section referred to specifies the powers which may be exercised by the City and County of Denver and under Section Six the City of Colorado Springs, in case of the adoption of the charter would have the same powers as near as may be as provided in this first section

What are the advantages to be expected from a charter convention and what is its object?

At present Colorado Springs is a city of the first class, and as a municipality is a creature of the Legislature It is subject to any legislation the General Assembly may choose to pass in reference to cities of the first class The only other city of the first class is Pueblo, whose needs are not the same as ours, nor are our needs the same as those of Pueblo but nevertheless the same legislation affects both While special legislation is in words prohibited by the Constitution in effect it is possible, so that legislation affecting Colorado Springs alone may be passed by the General Assembly at Denver, in which this city has but a small representation Assume for instance that the population of Colorado Springs is 35,000 that of Pueblo 45 000 and the Legislature wishes to legislate for Colorado Springs. It might pass an act relating to cities of the first class having a population of under 35,000, which would therefore apply to Colorado Springs alone and not to Pueblo

In the last Legislature some of the municipal officers of Pueblo who it is alleged desired to prevent an investigation of their official acts, had a bill introduced changing the municipal elections in cities of the first class from April of the odd years to November of the even years This if passed and held constitutional would have extended the terms of the Pueblo officials from April 1905 to November 1906 The bill as drawn also would have affected Colorado Springs in the same way but the indignant protests of citizens from both cities prevented the final passage of the act

This then is the first and fundamental reason why a charter should be adopted because of the belief that the citizens of this community should govern themselves should not be dependent for their form of government upon the ideas opinions and possibly prejudices of the legislature containing a very small percentage of our own citizens

The form of government provided by the Legislature is also out of date the majority of the acts were drafted when the city was a mere village and do not meet present requirements We have a Mayor with but little power and authority and even that in many instances uncertain It will be remembered that in the case of a tie vote upon the granting or refusal of a liquor license the right of the Mayor to cast a deciding vote was challenged and the case is now pending in the Supreme Court On such questions it certainly appears that there should be no uncertainty

Under the present system some of the officers are elective some appointed by the Mayor others by the Council making no one responsible head as naturally the officials look to the person who appointed them, and we have three separate appointing powers The theory of modern municipal government and no doubt the correct one is that there should be one executive head who shall be held responsible

The Council is presumed to be a legislative body but it also exercises executive functions as well through its committees All students of municipal affairs are agreed that in municipal matters as well as in national matters the best results are obtained by absolutely separating the executive and legislative functions If a new charter is adopted there should be a legislative body whose powers and duties are confined to that end

Many people think that our water system and our park system could be much better managed by commissions of men familiar with such subjects than through committees appointed by the Council. Acts authorizing such commissions have been passed but under the Constitution of Colorado such officers (according to the general opinion supported by authority) can not hold office for a longer term than two years In other words, a man would no sooner become familiar with such duties than his term of office would expire. This situation could be remedied by a charter convention to draft a system of government applicable to our needs, and such terms, duties and compensation could be provided for such park and water officials as the citizens in their wisdom might think sufficient

Under the present system if the citizens consider the terms of their officers too long or too short and their salaries too high or too low, they have no right to change these matters for the Legislature has determined it and alone has the power to make the change except in some instances in which limits are fixed between which the Council may determine the compensation to be paid city officials But under a form of charter government the citizens themselves would have the right to determine these questions in which they have a vital interest

A charter convention, if it so desired could for instance provide that no franchises for public utilities should be granted with out a majority vote in favor thereof by the tax payers or qualified electors of the city; that in the regulation of the liquor traffic the city itself might establish a dispensary system, abolishing the license system a change which can probably not constitutionally be made under our present system. The possibilities are limited as illustrating changes which might be provided by the majority of the citizens, which can be effected by a charter convention but which could not otherwise be effected without an amendment to the State Constitution or an act authorizing such change to be made by the Legislature. Such a convention could also produce that the citizens could, in case a sufficient number petition for it, have ordinances in reference to such matters passed upon by a vote of the citizens.

Under Section Six of the Twentieth Amendment cities of the first class are allowed to call an election to determine whether the citizens desire to hold a charter convention The petition for such an election must be signed by 5 per cent of the qualified electors of the next preceding gubernatorial vote in said city, unless the election is called for a time other than a general election when the percentage must be ten per cent. If the citizens vote in favor of a charter convention, twenty-one citizens and qualified electors who have resided in the city for five years are then elected at large who constitute such convention After they have held the convention and drafted a city charter the same is submitted to a vote of the citizens for adoption or rejection

The writer of the above article has mentioned several of the most important provisions which could be incorporated in a charter, but there are others which might be regarded by the members of the convention as worthy of adoption One of these is a board of public works, which could have complete charge of the sewers, streets, public buildings (including the City Hall and fire stations) and perhaps the portion of the water system within the city including distributing pipes irrigation ditches etc. These matters are now handled by various committees of the Council a method which is open to the same objection as the government of the water system namely a lack of expert knowledge and the short terms of the officials

If, instead of the present lax and inadequate method of running the water system we had a commission of three members and a competent hydraulic engineer to assume full charge there is scarcely a doubt that far better results would be secured The terms of the members of the commission ought to be long enough to enable them to acquire intimate knowledge of the system and give the city the benefit of such knowledge The engineer should be a man of high ability appointed for a long term and paid a salary sufficiently large to enable him to devote his undivided attention to the work

The charter convention is one of the most important matters that has come before the people of Colorado Springs in many years and they should take pains to inform themselves fully regarding it The first step is to get it before the Council, which can only be done by the presentation of a petition bearing the signatures of 5 per cent of the voters at the last gubernatorial election For this reason all persons who voted at the election of November 1904 are urged to sign the petition as early as may be convenient.

COLORADO'S BIRTHDAY.

TODAY is Colorado's thirtieth birthday. On August 1 1876, it was admitted to statehood, and because 1876 was the year in which our country celebrated its centennial anniversary, Colorado has since been known as the 'Centennial State" When it came into the Union it had not much to boast of except mineral wealth climate and a vast but undeveloped area Even then it stood, as it has ever since at the head of the list of producers of the precious metals, but its unsurpassed climate was scarcely known Neither had its scenic wonders been exploited, for people didn't travel then as they do now, and even if they had it was no small thing to make a trip to Colorado The Union Pacific was the only transcontinental railroad then completed to the borders of this state and it was a roundabout way for the traveler had first to go to Cheyenne

Things have happened since those days Colorado has grown to be one of the foremost states of the Union in every respect except population, and it is gaining population at a rapid rate Its agricultural resources are being developed so fast that before the end of another decade it will rival the greatest farming states of the Middle West. Its supremacy in mining is hardly likely to be challenged, and with the conversion of its water power into electricity it will assume a new importance in manufacturing

In these thirty years Colorado Springs has grown from a village of 2,000 or 3 000 people into a thriving city of 35 000 famous all over the country as a leading health and pleasure resort and residence city

The people of Colorado have a right to feel proud as they reflect today on the achievements of thirty years It is not a very long period and in any of the older Eastern states it would mean little but to us it means a great deal Colorado is still a youngster in the family of states but it is a healthy, husky youngster with a great future before it, a future that has scarcely begun to be realized.

REAL AIM OF THE ZIONISTS.

From the Philadelphia Ledger

It should be clearly understood in justice to what is a rapidly decreasing element in our population that the Jewish Zionists who are advocating the establishment of an autonomous state in Palestine do not reflect the views of a very large percentage of that sect in America In fact the advocates of the proposition themselves have no thought that any American citizens should be alienated their purpose is to organize some remedial means for their brethren residing in Russia or the other countries where they are denied equal rights of citizenship

NEXT CONGRESSIONAL BUMPER.

From Harper's Weekly

It will be interesting to see what measure the next session of the congress will pick out to serve as a bumper against urgent legislation The bill granting statehood to Oklahoma and New Mexico has served this purpose for years It has always been one of the first measures introduced and has, almost without exception, been one of the first measures to be reported to the house and senate from the committees Then it has been used as a parliamentary football always demanding attention when the country was clamoring for consideration of some important matter The cost of printing the public speeches and documents on the subject of statehood would probably pay the expense of an ordinary session of the congress Now that the question is out of the way the congressional leaders will probably look to the steering committee to select a new bumper

FRANCE AS INTERNATIONAL BANKER.

From the Review of Reviews.

France is now playing the role of the world's banker, England lost her claim to the title when she went to war in South Africa A generation ago, one had to go to London to feel the pulse of the international money market Today, one makes a better diagnosis in Paris

The strides toward financial supremacy which France is making have been most rapid in the past five years In that time French investors have taken up many milliard francs of foreign obligations They furnished Great Britain with much of the capital that went to finance the Boer war, they loaned enormous amounts to Russia, practically supplying the money needed in the struggle against Japan, they provided Germany with 1'000 000,000 marks in 1904-05 to carry on her tremendous industrial enterprises, they took a liberal amount of the last Japanese loan, over half of the Russia loan of last April, and finally, they supplied borrowers in the United States with fully $150 000 000 during the tight-money period of last winter and are now financing the bond and note issues of some of our greatest corporations

GREAT BRITAIN AND RUSSIA.

From the New York Tribune.

There will be widespread regret at the announcement of the indefinite postponement of the proposed visit of a British fleet to Russian waters. Other nations are not directly concerned in the doings of England and Russia, yet the indirect but benevolent interest of several great powers, including America, is considerable There is an earnest desire that Great Britain and Russia shall cultivate a closer and more cordial friendship than has recently existed between them and any step toward that end would be sincerely welcomed

The announcement that the British fleet would go to Cronstadt was therefore received with pleasure, and did much to reassure the world of the integrity of Russia and of the favorable outcome of the prolonged and serious crisis through which she is passing and the news of the postponement of that visit will be regretted as an indication not of any failure of the growing approachment between the two countries but rather of the prolongation of the disorganized and chaotic condition into which Russia has fallen

SECRETARY ROOT'S SOUTH AMERICAN TOUR.

From Harper's Weekly

It is a more plausible theory that the tour undertaken by the secretary of state has for its aim the ascertaining of the cause of the undisputed but regrettable fact that although the political interests of the South American republics are interwoven inextricably with our own, their commercial intercourse with us is relatively small, inasmuch as they buy from us only about a quarter of the commodities which they import Mr Root does not need to journey more than 15 000 miles in order to secure an answer to the question when he could find one with an hour's reflection in his office. Ever since the Spanish-American colonies threw off the yoke of Spain they have obtained from Europe, and especially from Great Britain, the advances of money indispensable for their internal development

What is true of the Spanish-American colonies is also true of Brazil It is mainly with the aid of English funds that their railways and their manufactures have been created and their mines worked It is economically inevitable that debtor states should contract the most intimate commercial relations with the countries which have been and remain creditors Moreover, if we except Brazilian coffee most of which is consigned to us, it is not the United States but Europe which affords a market for the surplus agricultural products of South America. In view of these facts, we might as well kick against the fundamental laws of political economy as try to oust the English, the French and Germans from their colgns of vantage in the South American trade

THE NEW "YELLOW PARTY."

From the Akron Pioneer Press

The new "Yellow party" has been formally launched in Denver. At a meeting attended by Senator Patterson, T J. O'Donnell, John Rush, John and Jim Mullins, Len Rogers and a number of other ate inhabitants of "stutters row" in the county jail, the organization was formed It was resolved, first, that there is no Democratic party in Denver; second, that the present Democratic party is a tool of the corporations, and third, that we are the real Democracy, hereby and hereafter. This is surely a delightful lot of reformers.

COLORADO IS GREAT.

From the Glenwood Post.

Eastern people are continually forming erroneous notions of Colorado owing to the ignorance of this great state and its multitude of resources Every year hundreds of people from the east come to Denver, Colorado Springs and Manitou and then go home and talk about Colorado when in truth they have hardly seen Colorado at all Colorado is a state distinguished by such a diversity of charms and resources that to have seen one portion only gives but little clue to what is contained in the balance of the state. No state in the union contains such a varied lot of scenery and climate as does Colorado, and as for natural mineral resources and agricultural possibilities the prescience of the most optimistic utterly fails to do justice to the subject Western Colorado holds a great storehouse of wealth which its future will exploit to the a[illegible]t of the a[illegible]rid. CHAPTER VI

THE SECRET OF A CELLAR.

We were in the king's dressing room, Fritz von Tarlenheim, Sapt, and I I flung myself exhausted into an armchair Sapt lit his pipe He uttered no congratulations on the marvelous success of our wild risk, but his whole bearing was eloquent of satisfaction The triumph, aided perhaps by good wine had made a new man of Fritz

What a day for you to remember!" he cried

'Gad I'd like to be a king for twelve hours myself' But, Rassendyll, you mustn't throw your heart too much into the part I don't wonder Black Michael looked blacker than ever—you and the princess had so much to say to one another"

How beautiful she is!" I exclaimed.

'Never mind the woman," growled Sapt 'Are you ready to start?"

Yes," I said, with a sigh

It was five o'clock and at twelve I should be no more than Rudolf Rassendyll I remarked on it in a joking way.

"You'll be lucky,' observed Sapt grimly, if you're not the late Rudolf Rassendyll By Heaven! I feel my head wobbling on my shoulders every minute you're in the city Do you know, friend that Michael has had news from Zenda? He went into a room alone to read it—and he came out looking like a man dazed"

'I'm ready,' I said, this news making me none the more eager to linger

Sapt sat down

I must write us an order to leave the city Michael's governor, you know, and we must be prepared for hindrances You must sign the order"

'My dear colonel, I've not been bred a forger!"

Out of his pocket Sapt produced a piece of paper

'There's the king's signature' he said, 'and here," he went on, after another search in his pocket, "is some tracing paper If you can't manage a Rudolf in ten minutes, why—I can"

'Your education has been more comprehensive than mine," I said 'You write it"

And a very tolerable forgery did this versatile hero produce

'Now, Fritz," said he, the king goes to bed. He is upset No one is to see him till nine o'clock tomorrow. You understand—no one?"

'I understand," answered Fritz

'Michael may come and claim immediate audience. You'll answer that only princes of the blood are entitled to it"

'That'll annoy Michael,' laughed Fritz

'You quite understand?" asked Sapt again "If the door of this room is opened while we're away you're not to be alive to tell us about it.'

'I need no schooling, colonel," said Fritz, a trifle haughtily.

'Here, wrap yourself in this big cloak' Sapt continued to me, 'and put on this flat cap My orderly rides with me to the shooting lodge tonight"

'There's an obstacle,' I observed. 'The horse doesn't live than can carry me forty miles'

'Oh yes, he does—two of him one here one at the lodge Now are you ready?"

'I'm ready" said I

Fritz held out his hand

'In case," said he and we shook hands heartily.

'Damn your sentiment'" growled Sapt "Come along"

He went not to the door, but to a panel in the wall

"In the old king's time,' said he, "I knew this way well"

I followed him, and we walked, as I should estimate, near two hundred yards along a narrow passage Then we came to a stout oak door Sapt unlocked it We passed through, and found ourselves in a quiet street that ran along the back of the palace gardens. A man was waiting for us with two horses. One was a magnificent bay up to any weight, the other a sturdy brown. Sapt signed to me to mount the bay Without a word to the man we mounted and rode away The town was full of noise and merriment but we took secluded ways My cloak was wrapped over half my face the capacious flat cap hid every lock of my telltale hair Ms Sapt's directions I crouched on my saddle, and rode with such a round back as I hope ever to exhibit on a horse again Down a long, narrow lane we went, meeting some wanderers and some roisterers; and as we rode we heard the cathedral bells still clanging out their welcome to the king It was half-past six and still light At last we came to the city wall and to a gate.

'Have your weapon ready," whispered Sapt "We must stop his mouth if he talks"

I put my hand on my revolver. Sapt hailed the doorkeeper. The stars fought for us' A little girl of fourteen tripped out.

'Please, sir, father's gone to see the king"

"He'd better have stayed here," said Sapt to me, grinning

"But he said I wasn't to open the gate, sir"

"Did he, my dear," said Sapt, dismounting "Then give me the key"

The key was in the child's hand. Sapt gave her a crown

"Here's an order from the king. Show it to your father Orderly, open the gate!"

I leaped down. Between us we rolled back the great gate, led our horses out, and closed it again

"I shall be sorry for the doorkeeper if Michael finds out that he wasn't there Now, then, lad, for a canter. We mustn't go too fast while we're near the town"

Once however outside the city we ran little danger for everybody else was inside merrymaking and as the evening fell we quickened our pace, my splendid horse bounding along under me as though I had been a feather It was a fine night and presently the moon appeared We talked little on the way and chiefly about the progress we were making

"I wonder what the duke's dispatches told him!" cried I, [illegible]

"Aye, I wonder!" responded Sapt.

We stopped for a draught of wine and to bait our horses, losing half an hour thus I dared not go into the inn, and stayed with the horses in the stable. Then we went ahead again and had covered some five-and-twenty miles when Sapt abruptly stopped.

'Hark'" he cried

I listened Away, far behind us, in the still of the evening—it was just half-past nine—we heard the beat of horses hoofs The wind, blowing strong behind us, carried the sound I glanced at Sapt.

"Come on!" he cried, and spurred his horse into a gallop. When we next paused to listen the hoof beats were not audible, and we relaxed our pace. Then we heard them again. Sapt jumped down and laid his ear to the ground

"There are two" he said "They're only a mile behind. Thank God, the road curves in and out, and the wind's our way"

We galloped on We seemed to be holding our own. We had entered the outskirts of the forest of Zenda, and the trees, closing in behind us as the track zigged and zagged preventing us seeing our pursuers, and them from seeing us

Another half hour brought us to a divide of the road Sapt drew rein

"To the right is our road," he said. "To left, to the castle Each about eight miles Get down"

"But they'll be on us!" I cried.

"Get down!" he repeated brusquely, and I obeyed

The wood was dense up to the very edge of the road We led our horses into the covert, bound handkerchiefs over their eyes, and stood beside them

"You want to see who they are?" I whispered

"Aye and where they're going" he answered

I saw that his revolver was in his hand

Nearer and nearer came the hoofs. The moon shone out now clear and full so that the road was white with it The ground was hard and we had left no traces

"Here they come!" whispered Sapt. 'It's the duke!"

'I thought so!" he answered

It was the duke, and with him a burly fellow whom I knew well, and who had cause to know me afterward—Max Holf, brother to Johann the keeper, and body servant to his highness They were up to us, the duke reined up I saw Sapt's finger curl lovingly toward the trigger I believe he would have given ten years of his life for a shot and he could have picked off Black Michael as easily as I could a barn-door fowl in a farm yard. I laid my hand on his arm. He nodded reassuringly he was always ready to sacrifice inclination to duty

"Which way?" asked Black Michael

"To the castle, your highness" urged his companion "There we shall learn the truth"

For an instant the duke hesitated

"I thought I heard hoofs" said he

"I think not, your highness'

"Why shouldn't we go to the lodge?"

"I fear a trap. If all is well, why go to the lodge? If not, it's a snare to trap us"

Suddenly the duke's horse neighed. In an instant we folded our cloaks close round our horses' heads, and, holding them thus covered the duke and his attendant with our revolvers If they had found us they had been dead men, or our prisoners Michael waited a moment longer. Then he cried

"To Zenda, then!" and setting spurs to his horse, galloped on

Sapt raised his weapon after him, and there was such an expression of wistful regret on his face that I had much ado not to burst out laughing

For ten minutes we stayed where we were.

"You see," said Sapt "they've sent him news that all is well."

"What does that mean?" I asked

"God knows," said Sapt, frowning heavily "But it's brought him from Strelsau in a rare puzzle"

Then we mounted, and rode fast as our weary horses could lay their feet to the ground. For those last eight miles we spoke no more. Our minds were full of apprehension. "All is well." What did it mean? Was all well with the king?

At last the lodge came in sight Spurring our horses to a last gallop we rode up to the gate. All was still and quiet. Not a soul came to meet us We dismounted in haste. Suddenly Sapt caught me by the arm.

"Look here!" he said, pointing to the ground.

I looked down. At my feet lay five or six silk handkerchiefs, torn and slashed and rent. I turned to him questioningly

"They're what I tied the old woman up with," said he "Fasten the horses and come along."

The handle of the door turned without resistance. We passed into the room which had been the scene of last night's bout. It was still strewn with the remnants of our meal and with empty bottles

"Come in,' cried Sapt, whose marvelous composure had at last almost given way.

We rushed down the passage toward the cellars. The door of the [illegible] cellar stood wide open

'I only found the old woman" said I.

"You might have known that from the handkerchiefs' he said

Then we came opposite the door of the wine cellar It was shut It looked in all respects as it had looked when we left it that morning

'Come, it's all right" said I.

A loud oath from Sapt rang out His face turned pale and he pointed again at the floor From under the door a red stain had spread over the floor of the passage and dried there Sapt sank against the opposite wall. I tried the door It was locked

'Where's Josef" muttered Sapt.

'Where's the king" I responded

Sapt took out a flask and put it to his lips I ran back to the [illegible] and [illegible] a heavy [illegible] place. In my terror I rained blows on the [illegible] and I fired a cartridge [illegible] way and the door swung

"Give me a light,' I leaned against the [illegible]

He was, of course, right, for he loved his master himself he was not—nor [illegible] him that, but to think that in that dark cellar was [illegible] any man's face pale I [illegible] and took a silver candlestick dining table and struck a light I returned I felt the hot wax [illegible] my naked hand as the candle [illegible] to and fro, so that I cannot [illegible] despise Colonel Sapt for his agitation.

I came to the door of the cellar. The red stain, turning more and more to a dull brown, stretched inside. I walked two yards into the cellar, and held the candle high above my head I saw the [illegible] full bins of wine, I saw spiders crawling on the walls, I saw, too, a couple of empty bottles lying on the floor, and then, away in the corner, I saw the body of a man lying flat on his back with his arms stretched wide, and a crimson gash across his throat I walked to him and knelt down beside him, and commanded to God the soul of a faithful man For it was the body of Josef, the little servant, slain in guarding the king

I felt a hand on my shoulder, and turning, saw Sapt's eyes, glaring and terror-struck, beside me

"The king! My God, the king!" he whispered hoarsely.

I threw the candle's gleam over every inch of the cellar

"The king is not here," said I

OUTCLASSED.

The bullet wept in silence and the poniard a falling tears
Betokened abdication after reigning many years,
The cannon's mouth was rusted and the sword was thrown aside
Upon a heap of rubbish, where in anguish deep it cried
The shipwreck sat and brooded by the old, unloaded gun,
The kerosene can wept because its little day was done
While striding proudly onward like two kings where vassals are
Went the haughty streptococcus and the mighty auto car!

The poison in its vial shrank for no one came to drink,
And Mars in jealous fury could but idly sit and think
He used to be so deeply feared so terrible and grim,
But Death in latter days had found but little use for him,
The open switch could barely speak—a frog was in its throat—
The microbe in the milk was dumb and could not sing a note
For all of them were needless now, as outworn servants are.
Beside the streptococcus and the mighty auto car'

"I had a victim spotted, said the dagger with a frown.
"But just before I got him a big auto ran him down'
I used to have some business, but let accident befall,
And it seems to me the strepto and the auto get it all!'
The coal hole half acknowledged that it used to have a share,
But the auto left it nothing, which was hardly fair or square.
And all of them admitted that each break or bruise or scar
Was of the streptococcus or the mighty auto car'

THE JOURNEY.

From the St Louis Globe-Dispatch

Chapter I.—A train was speeding westward across the Illinois prairies The golden fields raced by, the larks rose upon circling wings, and Johannabel Jepsfexyspyynx peered from the tourist sleeper, bright-eyed with wonders of the new world Suddenly the engineer threw the throttle back to the last notch and put a clothespin over his nose, and there was a crash of wind-jamming as the train shot past the glucose works. There was just a blur of buildings, but in that blur girl's sharp eye plainly descried a tall handsome young man standing at an open door regarding the train It was as if lightning had for an instant revealed the face and, lo! it was gone

Chapter II—Lucullus Leftyowuffenneffenbruzz remained so long at the door after the train passed that the foreman shouted at him The young man started as if from slumber Had it been a dream?—that fair face at the train window He went to his work with his heart thumping violently. It was Saturday, and on Saturday they always made raspberry jam. Lucullus now proceeded to throw in ten pounds of goat horns, an equal quantity of old rubber boots and twenty bushels of corn When it began to boil he opened the drain pipe from the frog pond and let in thirty gallons of pond water, tadpoles and bilge-fattened batrachians Ten minutes later he added five barrels of pokeberry juice to get the raspberry color Then he turned off the gas, and the raspberry jam began to cool

Chapter III—Johannabel spent her last penny for a paper and burrowed into the want ads Hher sharp eye was quick to detect the vacancy at the glucose works She proceeded thither, was signed at $4 a week, and was walking through the yard at the foreman's heels when she happened to look up at one of the windows If a thunderbolt had fallen from the sky and bounded into the window it could not have staggered two persons more than Johannabel and Lucullus were staggared by that glance. It was a race of both "It is he!" and "It is she!" Johannabel went on to her work. She was to cook olive oil. The foreman showed her how to do it. First, he lighted the gas burner. Then he got a bale of soap-yard and a bundle of grease-wood. Throwing this into the kettle, he poured in five gallons of dishwater [illegible] Permitting it to come to a boil, he added ten pounds of axle grease, followed closely by a watch dog and an old automobile tire. The whole was permitted to boil until dissolved.

Chapter IV—Lucullus looked from the window toward the door which had closed upon the fair stranger Would she reappear? As he looked the door opened and she came forth. "[illegible] the matter?" he asked, making a to meet her in the yard "I think I have any heart for the work," she said. Then fate took the hand of the man and the hand of the maid, and merged their two ways into one

"LAND OF ENCHANTMENT, FROM PIKE'S PEAK TO THE PACIFIC"

Henry Russell Wray, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday received a letter from Miss Lillian Whiting, the noted Boston author, stating that she has decided that the title of her new book, which has just been placed in the hands of the publishers, is to be "The Land of Enchantment, From Pike's Peak to the Pacific."

Miss Whiting recently wrote Mr Wray asking for information in regard to Pike's Peak, the Pike Centennial celebration and the region in general. It was her original intention to name the book "The Land of Enchantment" but after receiving the material from the Chamber of Commerce, she decided to add 'From Pike's Peak to the Pacific' to the title.

"The book opens with Colorado Springs, that most poetic and enchanting of places," writes Miss Whiting. She recently spent several weeks in Colorado Springs, following her travels through New Mexico, Arizona and California where scenes in the book are laid. While here she wrote the final chapters of the book.

The prominence which is to be given to Colorado Springs by one of the best-known writers in the country will prove a great "boost" for the region, as the book will be widely read in all parts of the country.

LAURA DONALD UNDER ARREST

CHARGED WITH DISTURBANCE. IS SAID TO HAVE TURNED HOSE UPON A SICK CHILD.

Laura Donald, living in the 100 block on West Cimarron street, will appear before Justice W. N. Ruby this morning at 9 o'clock, to answer to a charge of disturbance.

The woman was arrested yesterday by Humane Officer Neff, complaint having been made against her by neighbors. She was lodged in the county jail.

Various stories are told by people living in that neighborhood, of misbehavior on the part of the woman. She is said to be abusive to the children, calling them and their parents vile names.

A few days ago, according to one of the stories, she turned the hose, while sprinkling her lawn, on several small children, among them being Blanche Darland, a girl who recently underwent an operation in a local hospital, and who was in a weakened condition.

Some interesting developments are expected during the progress of the trial.

INDEPENDENCE CO. HOLDS MEETING

C. T. [illegible] VICE PRESIDENT—WATER SYSTEM PLANNED FOR UINTAH TOWN.

At the deferred annual meeting of the stockholders of the Independence Townsite and Development company held yesterday afternoon in the Mining Exchange building, it was decided to push the work on several improvements being made by the company in the town of Independence, in the recently-opened Uintah reservation.

Surveys are now being made for a water system to be used both for irrigation and domestic purposes. As soon as the engineers complete their surveys it is the plan to go ahead with the work as rapidly as possible. The finishing of other improvements, including a hotel building and several store buildings, now under construction, also was decided on. Prospective merchants, among whom are local men, are waiting for the completion of these buildings, and the work was ordered pushed as rapidly as possible. These improvements involve the expenditure of several thousands of dollars.

It was also decided to amend the articles of incorporation to increase the capital stock from $50,000, divided into 2,000 shares with a par value of $25 each, to the amount of $75,000, divided into 3,000 shares with a par value of $25 each. Officers were elected as follows: Judge McKallip, of Pueblo, president; C. T. Fertig, of this city, vice president; Mr. Noble of Pueblo, secretary; and Mr. Roland of Pueblo, treasurer.

LICENSES MUST BE PAID TODAY

CARRIAGE DRIVERS WILL BE ASSESSED $40 EACH FOR PRIVILEGE OF SHOWING TOURISTS THE SIGHTS.

If "cabby" swishes his whip a little more furiously today than usual at the small boy attempting to steal a ride, and the carriage men call "all the drives" with more than usual perseverance and energy, it all may be explained in these few words—this is the day for the payment of the annual license which is just four times as much as last year.

By an ordinance passed early this summer, the license to drivers of hacks and carriages was increased from $10 to $40, for the year beginning August 1. It was lighter, however, on the old drivers than on those starting in the business after the passage of the ordinance, because the latter were required to pay $40 up to August 1, when another similar amount is required for the ensuing year. There were nine securing licenses this season who were required to pay the double rate.

The charges within the city limits are regulated by the city and any dispute arriving from overcharge may be settled by any member of the police force.

For carrying one passenger a distance not exceeding 18 blocks, 50 cents may be charged; for conveying two passengers to the same point within 18 blocks, 50 cents each, and for conveying one or two passengers any additional distance in the city, 50 cents each; children between the ages of five and 14, when in charge of a paying passenger, one-half fare, children under five, no charge.

For use of vehicle, a charge of $2 is allowed for the first hour, and $1 for each additional hour.

OPPOSES BORING OF GATCH PARK TUNNEL

That the mine owners of the Cripple Creek district would make a mistake in adopting the Gatch Park, or intermediate drainage tunnel in preference to the Window Rock, or deep-level tunnel, is the opinion of D. W. Brunton, who was the consulting engineer for the mine owners when the tunnel was first planned last fall. He holds that while the intermediate tunnel would afford relief more quickly, the matter of four or six months should not be taken into consideration when it is a question of prolonging the life of the district several years. He believes that the difference in cost, $80,000, would be counterbalanced by the additional ore deposits that could be reached by boring the deeper tunnel. Inasmuch as it is probable that this second tunnel will be the last driven, he contends that it should be at the lowest possible depth.

FRANK C. SMITH GETS GOOD PLACE

IS MADE ASSISTANT GENERAL MANAGER OF SAN ANTONIO AND ARANSAS PASS ROAD.

Frank C. Smith, formerly superintendent of the western division of the Rock Island, and later general superintendent of the Colorado Springs and Cripple Creek District railway, has been appointed assistant general manager of the San Antonio and Aransas Pass railroad in Texas, the appointment taking effect today. Mr Smith will maintain his headquarters in San Antonio, and will be in charge of the operating department, as well as of the maintenance of way.

Mr. Smith came to Colorado Springs in 1897 as superintendent of the western division of the Rock Island, which position he resigned in 1902 to become general manager of the Short Line. When the Short Line was sold to the Colorado and Southern last year, Mr Smith withdrew to look after other interests. He is the owner of the Majestic building and other Colorado Springs real estate, and is a large stockholder in the El Paso National bank.

Mrs Smith and daughter, Miss Mae, expect to leave for Texas in about 10 days.

MORE MEDALS

REPRESENTATIVE BROOKS ORDERS ANOTHER BIG CONSIGNMENT OF SOUVENIRS.

So great has been the demand for the Pike Centennial souvenir medallions since the first consignment was received a few weeks ago that Representative F. E. Brooks yesterday found it necessary to telegraph to the Philadelphia mint for additional rush consignments. The telegram sent yesterday contained the request for 2,000 silver and 1,000 bronze medals, mounted, as well as for 1,000 unmounted of each of the bronze and silver. Over 3,000 of the medals have already been received in this city and this supply is nearly exhausted. Requests for the medals are coming in to Henry Russell Wray daily from Denver and all parts of the state.

Mr Brooks has received samples of the oxidized silver medals, which are superior to the ordinary silver medals, and which will be substituted for them in future consignments.

"Moneybak" Black Silks

THE satisfaction that comes of wearing a good black silk gown is complete. There may be other gowns vari-colored, richly trimmed, very showy and all that, but the black silk, superb, elegant, refined, dignified, is the queen of the wardrobe, and because of this evident superiority the black silk is indispensable. It must be included else the equipment is incomplete.

We all know, though, that there have been many discouragements for those who liked to have a good black silk dress. The market has been flooded with black silks loaded with chemicals to give them weight. Sixteen ounces of raw silk were loaded so as to make forty-eight ounces of silk. There are millions of yards of silk made annually weighted from one to two hundred per cent. This accounts for the failure of the average black silk—and it opened the way for an honest product, hence the unprecedented success of the famous Moneybak Black Silks.

These splendid silks have attained a popularity unprecedented in silk annals. The people have been quick to appreciate the importance of an honest, straight, true silk and as a result the black silk dress is again taking its rightful place in the esteem of good dressers.

We want to introduce Moneybak Silks to every woman not yet familiar with their merits. We want them to see the silks in the piece, to feel them, to test their strength. Ask to see Moneybak—and if you can't come to the store, send for samples. Don't miss knowing them at all events.

The Makers' Guarantee To Us: Moneybak means that if Moneybak Silk is damaged in any way during the difficult processes of reeling, throwing, winding, dyeing, weaving, or finishing, or from any fault of the silk or manufacture, claims for such damages will be paid by us without quibbling.

Our Guarantee To You: With every piece of Moneybak we sell we give you a written guarantee, as good as any check we ever signed, which on presentation with a defective piece of Moneybak Silk, will entitle you to the money you paid us every cent of it, without any embarrassment or humiliation to you, will be cheerfully paid.

We do not know of a fairer, squarer proposition.

It makes Moneybak an absolutely safe silk to buy.

"Grades of Moneybak"

Moneybak Silks are made in two grades, XX and XXX qualities, they are 20 to 36 inches wide and retail at $1, $1.25, $1.50 @ $2 yd.

The name "Moneybak" is woven in every yard of selvage.

WHAT THE PRESS AGENTS SAY

GOOD MUSICAL COMEDY

The Curtis Musical Comedy company presented the laughing musical comedy, "A New York Girl," at the Opera house last evening to another large audience. The comedians, Allen Curtis, Al Bruce, Arthur Clamage and Harry Lewis, are certainly laugh producers. They will give two more performances of "A New York Girl"—this afternoon at the ladies' matinee, and this evening. Tomorrow evening they will change their bill. They will be seen in Weber & Field's great success, "Whirley-Girley." The songs introduced in this comedy are some of the latest and most popular ones of the day, including George Cohan's latest, "Yankee Doodle Boy." The moving pictures and illustrated song will also be changed. This attraction will no doubt prove to be popular with the patrons of the Opera house. It is well worth the prices of admission charged—10c, 20c, 30c and 50c.

The concert to be given tomorrow, Thursday evening, at the First M. E. church, promises to be one of unusual attractiveness for lovers of good music. Considerable interest has been manifested in musical circles by the announcement that Amy Ahrens, an extraordinarily gifted girl of 12 years, would appear at this concert. Both press and public, however, the latter heard, admit her title to being ranked among the great violin prodigies. Other specialties on the program will be the songs by Mrs. W. W. Gilbert of Dixon, Ill., and the organ playing of Mr. Wilhelm Schmidt, who will have at his command one of the largest and best toned organs in the state. Mrs. Bonnie Davis White, Miss Nellie M. Painter, Mr. Joseph C. McCoombs and Mr. Frank C. Hart will each appear in well-selected solos and in Pinsuti's "The Parting Kiss," for quartet.

JUMPS THROUGH COACH WINDOW

SHORT LINE ACCIDENT CAUSES PANIC AMONG PASSENGERS NO ONE WAS SERIOUSLY HURT.

A panic resulted yesterday afternoon among the passengers on the relief train which was carrying the passengers who had been transferred from Short Line train No. 48 on account of a landslide near Love siding, when one of the cars jumped the track on trestle No. 25-A and ran on the ties for about 30 rail lengths. One man jumped through an open window and was severely bruised. Several women fainted and it was some time before quiet was restored. No one was seriously hurt.

The landslide, which made it necessary to transfer passengers from No. 48 occurred yesterday morning about 10 o'clock between Love and Clyde. Traffic was delayed for several hours. Freight train No. 36, eastbound, was the first train to encounter the blockade. Word was sent to Cripple Creek, and trains No. 15 and 3 were sent with a relief crew and equipment to clear the track. The track was cleared at 3:45 p. m. Passengers on the train which left Colorado Springs at 8:15 o'clock yesterday morning, did not reach Cripple Creek until 2:30 yesterday afternoon.

FINDS ARMY BADGE LOST IN CIVIL WAR

UTICA, N. Y., July 31. Smith Zolie, of Whitesboro, has just received an identification badge lost by him in the battle of Antietam forty-four years ago. Mr. Zolie enlisted at Albany in 1861 in the Forty-fourth New York Volunteers, otherwise known as the Ellsworth Avengers.

The badge in question was lost at Antietam, September 17, 1862, when the battle was fought. In the fall of 1902 the medal was dug up by a farm laborer named Hugh Spickman, and afterward obtained by O. T. Reilly, a battlefield guide.

BRITISH GOVERNMENT'S PLAN FOR TRANSVAAL CONSTITUTION

LONDON, July 31.—In a speech of great moderation, Winston S. Churchill, parliamentary secretary for the colonial office in the house of commons, this afternoon explained the government's plan to confer a constitution on the Transvaal.

Dwelling on the urgency of the question, he described the Transvaal as the nerve center of South Africa and said the new country produced in miniature all the dark and tangled problems of the old established European states. The government's guiding principle had been to treat the Boer and Briton alike and to make no distinction in granting the boon of British citizenship both to the men who fought loyally for Great Britain and to those who resisted the British arms with desperate courage. While the government had been careful to secure for the British every advantage justly claimed, South Africa's future depended on both races learning to look to the mother country as a friend. The government had decided for the principle of manhood suffrage against any property qualification. Therefore, every adult male 21 years old who had been a resident six months in South Africa, except members of the British garrison, would be entitled to vote under the secret ballot system. Proportionate representation was not popular and incomprehensible in the Transvaal, so it had been decided to go straight for single member seats.

The population of the Rand, Mr. Churchill continued, equaled that of the whole of the rest of the country, and on the basis of the census of 1904 it had been decided to allot 32 members to the Rand, one to Krugersdorp, six to Pretoria and 30 to the rest of the country.

Lord Selborne, the British high commissioner in South Africa, Mr. Churchill explained, had expressed the opinion that this arrangement was perfectly fair to the British vote.

The Transvaal assembly would consist of 69 salaried members, elected for five years. Either the British or Dutch languages could be used in the transaction of public business.

Mr. Churchill declined to speculate on the outcome of the elections, but said there were undoubtedly more British than Dutch voters. He hoped however, that they would produce a coalition government. Such a solution would be a Godsend to South Africa, though the secretary was confident that neither party would fail in its duty toward the crown.

The speaker added that there would be an express stipulation against sanctioning labor of a servile character. In conclusion, he said that the government proposal must be accepted or rejected as a whole.

NATION'S CAPITAL SEEKS COMMERCE

BUSINESS MEN ENDEAVOR TO EXCHANGE DISTRICTIVE FEATURES FOR A "GREATER WASHINGTON."

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Although many distinguished visitors have found Washington's distinguishing charm the absence of the hurly-burly of commerce, which is found in other American cities, local business interests are endeavoring to boom it into a great trade center. The "Greater Washington" is an ambition daily expressed in all the newspapers, and in resolutions of business associations. The establishment of a vast jobbing and shipping trade is the specific end toward which the efforts of these interests are being directed.

Up to the present time the city has developed commercially just enough to supply the demands of the population which is here because of the seat of federal government is here. The department stores do little country business in either Maryland or Virginia. Baltimore, Richmond and Norfolk monopolise that field.

The Jobbers and Shippers association, formed for the purpose of making "Greater Washington" a fact, is devising ways and means to get outside business. One proposition advanced by a wholesale grocer is that all Washington jobbing houses simultaneously send their salesmen to certain towns in contiguous territory and literally sweep their patronage into the grasp of "Greater Washington." This plan of action is being advocated as irresistible. "Advertise" is another watchword. The local newspapers have been devoting columns each day to the program. They announce that Washington has become the talk of the country.

SUSPECTS REMOVAL OF ST. PETER'S BODY

NEW YORK, July 31.—Because an anonymous writer who signs himself "Marcellus of the Old Empire," has written an open letter to Pope Pius, calling upon him in the interest of historical fact and archaeological research to permit the opening of the tomb of St. Peter in St. Peter's cathedral, Rome, for the purpose of settling the question as to whether the tomb really contains the bones of the apostle, Catholic educational circles in this country and Europe have been aroused.

St. Peter is supposed to have been buried in Rome and the great main altar in St. Peter's has always been supposed to be over the tomb. The tomb so far as history tells has never been disturbed. "Marcellus" hints, however, that at some time it was desecrated and the bones removed. Archaeologists are deeply interested in the answer which the pope may make.

HOPELESSLY INSANE

ALIENISTS DECLARE ATTORNEY CHICAGO EMBEZZLER IS HOPELESSLY UNBALANCED.

PORTLAND, Ore., July 31.—A thorough examination by alienists appointed by the court to inquire into the sanity of one R. C. Mahoney, a real estate broker of Seattle, who was arrested here Monday and charged with embezzlement by a Chicago attorney, Q. P. Grier, resulted in the declaration that the man is hopelessly insane.

Mahoney is one of the many aliases assumed by J. W. Moseley, who decamped from Chicago in 1898, where for several years he had conducted a brokerage business. He left Chicago under a cloud, having been charged with embezzlement from Mrs. Adda T. Brundage of over $6,000. While in Chicago he was known as Bufford C. Tyler.

CHICAGO, July 31.—The charge of embezzlement against Mahoney is brought by Mrs. Ada T. Howland of this city, who was Mrs. Ada Brundage in 1898, when she intrusted her funds to Mahoney for investment. Although scores of investors are said to have suffered in all when Mahoney disappeared, Attorney William H. Tuttle, who is associated with Attorney Grier, said the only charge he knew against Mahoney was the one brought by Mrs. Howland.

GIRL WITH TOOD 9,000 VOLTS OF ELECTRICITY

CHICAGO, July 31.—Nine thousand volts of electricity passed through the body of Anna Sheridan, 11 years old, today without killing the child. So severe was the shock that the girl's clothing took fire and she was burned about the arms and legs, but aside from these injuries the great volume of the current failed to harm her to any appreciable extent. The child took hold of a deadly lever while at play about the Chicago Edison power plant. Physicians who were hurried to the plant to attend the little one are at a loss to understand how she escaped death. Never before, it is said, has a human being withstood anywhere near that voltage and lived.

WORE UP DAUGHTER'S GRADUATING GOWN

DES MOINES, Ia., July 31.—Because she objected to her daughter marrying Ellis Martin, of Des Moines, Mrs. Sarah Cline, with the assistance of her son-in-law, R. A. Hodges, kidnaped Anna Cline and drove over fifteen miles through a raging storm to this city, where the girl is now being secreted.

Young Martin secured the license to wed and the girl, by telling her mother she was already married, hoped to get her forgiveness and then arrange for a home ceremony. The mother flew into a rage and tore to shreds a hundred dollar graduating gown the young woman had selected to wear as a wedding dress. She is an only child of wealthy parents and her mother is wealthy. Martin is just of age and has been in Pueblo but a few months, engaged in cement sidewalk work.

Haggard and hollow-eyed, young Martin is searching the city night and day for his would-be bride, scarcely eating and refusing to sleep. He has not the means to employ assistance in his search, but kind-hearted policemen are aiding him.

"DREAM OF A HAT" IS SOLD FOR $390

NEWPORT, R. I., July 31.—One of the most expensive hats on record came out of the charity fete given here by society women. It brought $390 and was known as Mrs Joe E. Widener's hat, since the fair Philadelphian gave it. It was drawn by Robert Goelet who declined to say how many shares he had but he bore it off triumphantly to Mrs Goelet, who was formerly Miss Elsie Whelen of Philadelphia. She will add it to her collection of exquisite millinery which is not much in use this season, as she is ill and does not go out a great deal. The prize was a white leghorn hat trimmed with white chiffon and a wealth of pink roses. Some of the women who coveted it called it a dream. General Horace Porter, American ambassador at Paris, won a beautiful jewel box.

JUDGE STAYS UNDER WATER 45 MINUTES

GENESEO, N. Y., July 31.—Former Judge Reuben P. Lawton of Geneseo, a retired lawyer and politician, appeared today in his bathing suit on the shore of Silver lake, where his son, Frank, has a summer cottage. The judge carried a fishpole with a small flag at one end. He waded out to the depth of his neck and continued walking out into the water until he was completely submerged. The flag remained above the surface for some time, moving slowly along, and then flag and pole both floated away and drifted toward the shore. Judge Lawton was under the water forty-five minutes. He explained that he had walked beneath the surface of the water by means of an invention that he has just completed after five years of study and experimentation.

Boudinot, a Cherokee Indian.

Secretary Hitchcock denies the jurisdiction of the court on the ground that the attorneys to whom the fee was to be paid have not been made parties to the suit, and further that Boudinot's interest in that fee as a member of the tribe of Indians, will amount to only $6, which is below the pecuniary minimum of the court's jurisdiction.

The difference between relief and cure

All Physics Don't Cure. When a physic is needed, anything that will cleanse the bowels will relieve, but that does not necessarily mean that such a laxative will cure. Nearly all purgative waters, cathartics and sugar coated pills will give temporary relief, but usually at a great cost to the health of the patients.

Such preparations weaken the muscles of the stomach so much that it soon becomes necessary for the patient to take a physic before he can have a proper bowel movement.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

does not act upon the bowels like ordinary cathartics. It contains such wonderful tonic properties that it soon strengthens the weakened stomach, so it can properly and voluntarily perform its functions.

It is pleasant to take and never causes griping or pains of any sort.

A free sample bottle will be sent upon request to those who have never tried it.

All druggists sell Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at 50c and $1.00 a bottle.

GOLD OUTPUT FOR JULY SHOWS GAINS

CRIPPLE CREEK MINES PRODUCE A MILLION AND A HALF DOLLARS IN YELLOW METAL.

CRIPPLE CREEK, July 31.—The month closes today with the output of gold from the Cripple Creek district amounting to $1,636,500. The tonnage is 2,060 tons less than that of June, but the valuations are much higher and the returns on the product for July exceed those of the previous month by $80,100.

The only mill not in operation during July is the Economic in Arequa gulch. There was an increase in the tonnage at the Ironclad and Anaconda plants, while the Santa Rita showed a great falling off in only handling 100 tons of $7 ore.

The figures follow:

PLANT.	Tons.	Average Value.	Total.
Smelters	9,992	75	$ 749,400

LEADVILLE FIELD HAS MANGANESE

CAMP BIRD LESSEES OPEN FIRST BODY OF THIS KIND OF ORE EVER DISCOVERED IN THE DISTRICT.

LEADVILLE, July 31.—At the Sugar Loaf district work is in full swing and a number of properties have resumed work. Among them is the Dinero, which is being worked by two sets of lessees and the owner, taking out good silver ore and some first class zinc sulphides. The property is shipping steadily.

At a depth of twenty-five feet in a new shaft on the Linna, Sherill & Caton have opened a five-foot vein of ore that runs sixty-five ounces silver and thirty-four hundredths gold per ton. At the Bartlett tunnel the lessees are working on a good body of ore recently opened.

For the first time in the history of the district a body of manganese iron has been opened in the Camp Bird property by Caton, Murphy & Barnes. The ore was found in the shaft at a depth of 125 feet, but the flow of water was so heavy when the ore was caught that the lessees were drowned out. To overcome this a tunnel will be driven a distance of 125 feet from the bottom of the hill to cut the shaft and drain it.

KEMP-CALHOUN HAS ROCK RUNNING $188

CENTRAL CITY, Colo., July 31.—Johns and company, of Nevadaville, who are leasing in the 250-foot west level of the Kemp-Calhoun property, in Leavenworth gulch, have received returns of nine ounces gold, twenty-seven ounces silver and over four per cent in copper, or a net value of $188 per ton for a shipment to the sampling works at Black Hawk. Chicago people are interested in the property, and it is being worked entirely under the leasing system. The product is almost entirely of the smelting kind, and while the mineral streak is small at times, it is of extra good grade, carrying splendid values in gold, silver and copper.

GREAT WILCOX TUNNEL PIERCES ARMY OF VEINS

GEORGETOWN, Colo., July 31.—The great Wilcox tunnel, now in approximately 4,600 feet, has intersected an army of veins, all of which will eventually add largely to the world's money market.

Principal among the lodes now being drifted are the Paymaster, Commonwealth, Independence and 1904. Large bodies of ore are exposed and the workings are in condition at the present time for a production exceeding 200 tons per day.

A three-compartment raise has been put upon the Commonwealth lode for a distance of over 200 feet, and a body of solid smelting material has been followed which measures from eighteen inches to two feet in thickness. The ore contains average values of about $75 to the ton in gold, silver, lead and copper.

WEST WHITING MINE PRODUCING $90 ORE

CENTRAL CITY, Colo., July 31.—[illegible] and company received returns of better than three ounces gold per cord for their shipments of milling ore from their lease on the West Whiting mine, on Gunnell hill, and they shipped two cars of tailings to the smelters which are expected to run between $15 and $18 per ton. They also shipped two cars of milling ore to Argo, and their ore generally brings them about three ounces of gold per ton. They have recently erected a new shaft building and installed a plant, and are in good shape for carrying on active operations and making money for the pool. They are leasing from the Gunnell Gold Mining company.

PHERRIN BROS. SHIPPING.

CRIPPLE CREEK, July 31.—Pherrin brothers, who are operating a lease in the old shaft of the Gold Dollar company, are shipping a car of [illegible] ore today. The ore is obtained in the first level from a new ore body of good size.

GETTING OUT GOOD ORE IN EAGLE LODE

PITKIN, Colo., July 31.—Lee Reynolds of Ohio City has an 18 months' bond and lease on the Eagle lode in Dutch gulch. He has a tunnel in 260 feet and ran a drift for 40 feet, when a body of ore 18 inches to two feet wide was struck. He has raised on this for 25 feet. The ore runs $21 in gold and silver and shows considerable zinc and lead, no assays having been made on the two latter metals.

He will have a test made on the mineral at the Jersey Blue mill. The tunnel will be driven 30 feet farther to cut a large dyke. The property is owned by Brothers & Christal.

TO RUN MILL ON COPPER MOUNTAIN

HUNDRED-FOOT VEIN OF LOW-GRADE ORE IS BEING DEVELOPED AND CAN BE HANDLED PROFITABLY.

CRIPPLE CREEK, July 31.—The Phyolite-Beacon Mines company, operating the Fluorine claim on Copper mountain, has opened up a vein 100 feet wide showing values of $2.40 to $5.60 in gold to the ton, contained in a yellow mud-phonolite composition.

Superintendent Miller will leave this week for the east and upon his return will start up the Copper mountain cyanide mill, which has a capacity of 70 tons a day. He believes that this ore can be handled at a handsome profit. A tunnel has been driven for 75 feet.

Frye, Becker and Travell, who have a lease on the north end of the Granite on Battle mountain, have completed sinking the shaft to 125 feet and today let a contract to James Wilson for 100 feet of crosscutting. They expect to find one of the rich Granite veins.

M. B. Burke is receiving returns of $50 to $80 per ton on three to four cars of ore which are being shipped from the Henry Adney each week.

GREATEST RICHES ARE IN ARAPAHOE

ORE BODY SHOWS 20 OUNCES OF GOLD AND 80 OUNCES SILVER, WITH HIGH GRADE STREAK.

GEORGETOWN, Colo., July 31.—The Arapahoe group of claims, being operated by Messrs. J. J. White, Thomas Cunningham, Oscar Hoffman and Charles Glieen, original locators and owners, is producing some of the richest ore ever found in East Argentine. At least this can be said concerning the gold values. In the upper workings there is a body of ore showing which measures from two to four feet in thickness, which contains average values of 20 ounces gold and 80 ounces silver to the ton. Alongside of this body there is to be found from one to four inches of ore which carries values of 500 ounces gold and 4,000 ounces silver to the ton.

Only a short time ago J. J. White offered his partners a guarantee of $10,000, providing they would lease their interest until November 1. This offer was refused and it is now predicted that the Arapahoe will break all prospective and predicted records during this year from a production standpoint.

SPRINGS MEN HAVE A FIND IN CUMBERLAND

IDAHO SPRINGS, Colo., July 31—The Cumberland in the gulch of the same name is being worked by A. V. Dickson and Colorado Springs associates through a shaft 100 feet deep from which first grade of $120 a ton and mill dirt of $30 has been produced in considerable quantity. They are now getting up a stamp mill.

Walter S. Hobbs has recently opened rich ore in the Centennial, one of the oldest workings in the district. He gets assays up to $400.

The '94 company has a fine ore showing and has made an effort at operating a mill at a profit. It is owned by C. L. West of Omaha and George Possell of Denver. The company has a group of claims developed by tunnel and the properties on Seemann hill are well equipped with surface buildings.

EVERY POINT YIELDED BY THE MINE OWNERS

TONOPAH, Nev., July 31.—Both mine owners and the leaders of the Western Federation of Miners in Nevada regard as significant the ratification of the time and wage scale by the members of the union in the Tonopah district yesterday.

The mine owners yielded every point, granting an eight-hour day for every workman and a general day wage scale of $4 and $4.50 with $5 and $5.50 for the more expert classes of labor. They made their stand upon three-year agreement, and this was accepted by a vote of 241 to 109. Eight hundred miners did not visit the polls, indicating their satisfaction with the surrender of the operators and their desire to see tranquillity in the camps for three years.

GOLD PRINCE MILL NEARING COMPLETION

SILVERTON, Colo., July 31.—Good progress is being made in the construction of the great all-steel Gold Prince mill at Animas Forks, which, when completed, will be the most modern and complete mill in Colorado.

Its capacity will be 500 tons a day and its cost $500,000. Since railroad traffic was resumed to Animas Forks ninety-three carloads of structural steel and machinery have been shipped there and the material is almost all on the ground.

Manager W. Z. Kinney expects to be able to start up the mill by the middle of September. A large force is employed at the mine, which will be ready to supply the mill to its full capacity indefinitely.

BLUE BIRD MINE CLOSED.

CRIPPLE CREEK, July 31.—The Blue Bird mine on Bull hill has been closed down for the past week, the Messrs. Johnson of Colorado Springs, who own the property, being in Nevada on an extensive tour of exploration. It is understood that work will be resumed at the Blue Bird on their return, which may be this week.

CLOSING IN WALL STREET IS FIRM

PRICES [illegible] UPWARD TENDENCY, BUT REPRESSIVE INFLUENCE IS [illegible] U. S. STEEL IS FEATURE.

NEW YORK, July 31.—Prices showed a disposition to move upward today. There was manifest some repressive influence on the movement. While the rise was thus checked there was no urgent pressure and the level was little disturbed, in spite of the decided decrease in the demand for stocks which is made clear by the shrinkage in the total dealings for the day.

Interest became torpid and the price movements exceedingly sluggish. This was particularly true of the U. S. Steel stocks, which were held in reserve apparently for leadership of the later movement. It is doubtful whether the quarterly statement of the net earnings of the company contained any notable surprises for those who have been dealing actively in the stocks. The statement did not appear in time to enable information to be used at first hand in the market operations of the day, but as the time for the assembling of the directors approached, large transactions in U. S. Steel common appeared on the tape and its price was carried up to 40, which was the objective foretold by the speculative sponsors for the market movement.

The weater bureau's weekly crop bulletin was noncommittal as usual, but contained nothing to shake the present strong conviction of the excellent progress of the crops.

The money market was not affected by the monthly settlements which are not important for August, but foreign exchange moved up another step and away from the gold import level. The inflammatory condition reported from Russia was without effect here, or, so far as perceptible, abroad, where some confidence seemed to be restored over the payments to be made tomorrow on subscriptions to the last Russian loan.

The late movement in U. S. Steel carried prices to the high level of the first hour and held them there to a firm closing.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $1,709,000. United States bonds unchanged on call.

SEVENTY DOLLAR ORE IN TRACHYTE MINE

CRIPPLE CREEK, July 31.—The Trachyte Leasing company, operating on the Trachyte of the United Gold Mines company on Bull hill, shipped a car of ore to the Eyler smelter at Pueblo yesterday, the ore being obtained at a depth of 300 feet in the mine. Two machines are at work breaking ore in a body two feet wide, containing an exceedingly rich streak eight inches in width. The screenings and high grade coarse rock from this lease give returns of three and one-half ounces to the ton in gold, making the lease one of the best in that portion of the camp at present.

CUT BIG ORE BODY IN WHISPER SHAFT

CRIPPLE CREEK, July 31—George Nourse and associates, operating at a depth of 100 feet in the Whisper shaft of the Gold Sovereign company on Bull hill, have cut an extremely large body of ore which assays from $40 to $60 to the ton in gold. While the ore may prove to be a pocket, it looks good for several cars of ore of a good grade. A shipment, the first to go out from the strike will be made this week. There is ore in sight in the Whisper from surface to the 400-foot or bottom level and regular shipments are being made by another set of lessees operating in the 400.

SUNNYSIDE PLACER SOLD.

CRIPPLE CREEK, July 31.—Ed Brandon and Edith Brandon of Fremont county have sold the Sunnyside placer claim to Paul Esteb of this county for $1,500. The placer contains sixty acres and the deed conveying it was executed July 7. Esteb has since put the claim in trust to secure a loan of $600 from Brandon. The Wilson Creek Junction placer was conveyed by Brandon to Esteb on the same date.

LIBERAL SELLING PUT WHEAT DOWN

MARKET RECEIVES PRINCIPAL SUPPORT FROM SHORTS. CORN AND OATS ALSO ARE WEAK.

CHICAGO, July 31.—Weakness in the wheat market developed toward the end of the first hour. Prior to that, feeling in the pit was steady, there being a good demand by shorts who were influenced by the comparatively firm tone of the wheat market at Liverpool. Cash houses were again free sellers throughout the entire day. In addition to these sales there was liberal selling by local longs who had been holding onto their lines in the hope of a rally following the closing out of July deals. Country acceptances, while not so large as during the past few days, were still of liberal proportions and primary receipts continued on a large scale. Bearish factors were reinforced by advices from the spring wheat country which told of the generally excellent condition of the new crop. The market received its principal support from shorts. The tone at the close was weak. September opened a shade lower to a shade higher at 74 5-8 to 3-4, sold up to 74 7-8 and then declined to 73 7-8, closing at 74 1-8@1-4.

In the corn pit there was persistent selling by cash houses and liberal sales by influential longs. As a result the tone of the market was weak practically all day, the exception being at the immediate opening, when buying by shorts caused moderate firmness. One of the chief sources of weakness was wet weather in Nebraska. The market closed weak. September opened unchanged to 1-8 higher at 50 7-8 to 51, sold up to 51 1-4 and then declined to 49 3-4, closing at 49 3-4.

A decline of 2 3-4 a bushel in the price of oats for July delivery was the feature of trading in the oats pit. The weakness of July had a depressing effect on all other deliveries. September opened 1-8 to 1-8@1-4 lower at 32@1-8 to 32 1-8, sold off to 31 and closed at 31@1-8.

The decline in the price of coarse grains had a weakening effect upon the provisions market. Sentiment was also affected by a 5-cent decline in the price of live hogs. The volume of trading was small. At the close September pork was off 20 at $16.75. Lard was unchanged at $8.72 1-2. Ribs were down 7 1-2 at $8.97 1-2.

COLORADO CITY

Fred Borst, proprietor of the City Meat market, one of the Colorado City men against whom Montgomery Simms has brought suit for the sum of $100,000, charging conspiracy against him, has instructed his attorney, John R. Watt, to sue Simms for $10,000, unless his, Borst's name, is withdrawn from the complaint immediately. Mr. Borst said yesterday that he had told Warren Simms to tell his father that he intended to sue him unless his name was dropped.

"Simms has been trying to get even with me," said Mr. Borst, yesterday, "ever since the time when he came in here to get some meat for his cat, and I put him out because he put the cat down on a large piece of meat without waiting for me to get some scraps." Then after I had put him out, he offered me $25 to step out of the door and let him shoot at me. I mean business."

MANITOU NEWS

Yesterday morning all the guests of the Navajo assembled in the parlors and halls, and Mrs. Pollen, the popular hostess of the hotel, was asked to come in for a moment. Before she had time to realize the significance of the summons, Mr. S. S. Pease, a St. Louis attorney, and a guest of the house, handed her a hand painted plate, and in a short speech explained that the gift was but a mild form of appreciation and affection from the guests.

A tallyho party from the Navajo drove all around Colorado Springs yesterday, bringing up at the Antlers hotel, where Miss Rosine Morris, a well-known pianist of Webb City, gave an impromptu recital for her many friends. Miss Morris, accompanied by her father, left for home today.

Tuesday night the male guests of the Hotel Navajo gave a card party in honor of the women guests of the house. Euchre and whist were the games played, and four beautiful prizes were given for each. The prizes were hand painted china, Mexican drawn work and leather pillows.

WAS NOT "FEMALE"?

T. R. Lounsbury in Harper's for August.

The fortunes of words, indeed, are subject to as many vicissitudes as the fortunes of individuals. But there is perhaps no one term which just now deserves more commiseration for the hard fate which has befallen it than the substantive female used as a synonym for "woman." It is turned out-of-doors by every corrector of the press. It is contemptuously spoken of as a vulgarism; modern ignorance has sometimes styled it a modern vulgarism.

Both as a substantive and as an adjective female goes back to the fourteenth century; but though then occasionally employed as a synonym for "woman," such usage can hardly be called common. Still it is found. The Wycliffite translation of the Bible, for illustration, reads in the twenty-fourth chapter of Matthew that two women shall be grinding at a quern; the one to be taken, the other left. But in the polemic treatise Wycliffe wrote, expounding this same chapter, the two "women" of the gospel appear as two "females." The word turns up occasionally from that time during the three centuries that follow.

It is clear that the elder writers, born and brought up amid the linguistic traditions of the earlier half of the nineteenth century, were not in the slightest degree under the influences now prevalent; and that the disrepute into which the word has fallen is mainly the work of the last 30 years. It is hard to tell under what circumstances the feeling of dislike to it arose, or what were the main determining agencies that brought about the state of feeling we recognize as existing today. If the remark will not seem invidious, I am inclined to attribute the disfavor in which it is now held to the ill-will entertained and expressed towards it by the members of the sex it denotes. It may be said that they ought to have a determining voice in choosing the appellations by which they are designated.

BACHELDER WORRIED BY COURT SUMMONS

Just in the act of leaving the city on an extended trip, Monday, W. J. Bachelder, former president of the Anthony Motor and Manufacturing company, was served with a notice to appear in court for trial within twenty days.

Mr. Bachelder had arranged to make an extended trip through Europe in an automobile, and until he learned through his attorney that his plans need not be altered, he was greatly disturbed by the interruption.

H. C. Chapman was responsible for the summons, he desiring to recover $1,500 for alleged misrepresentation in the sale of an automobile.

COURT NOTES

A suit was filed in the district court yesterday by the Bull Frog Nugget Mining company against Joseph F. Colligan, for nonpayment of two notes—one of $2,500 and the other for $5,000 On failing to locate the defendant, 544,000 shares of the company's stock, made out in Colligan's name, was levied on by Undersheriff Dayton, he being armed with a writ of attachment.

In the county court yesterday a suit was filed by George Sachs against W. H. Jones, to recover $75 due for professional services.
